An AIS Data Driven Approach to Vessel Pollutant Emission Predictions

by Dillon de Silva

2022

Abstract

TODO

Introduction

There is a rising need for engineering smarter technologies which factor in sustainability by some means.

Automatic Identification System (AIS) data is used to track the global movement of ships. WTG currently utilises this information in our calculation of ETAs for a cargo vessel to reach its destination.